Shalom
(Ref. 2^o)

'Shalom', Peace : a specially suitable greeting for today, the Eve of the lunar New Yr. For peace and reconciliation between people, are abemes of this time, as well as being themes of the Christian year (and of this ^{a celebration} Holy Year.) It reminds us, as we pray to our Father in heaven, that we share our humanity with people of every tradition, culture, religion (or none) and with Christ. There is always much we can learn from the common experience of mankind, to bring to our worship and thanksgiving to God : our Christian celebrations and liturgy cannot be kind of disembodied things, for to be ours they have to be human.
