

One who likes p54
(ONE FURTHER)

Hosanna

(where you go)

Every so often I come across a short article or chapter in a book which says nicely some of the things I would like to say to you in these programmes, as sort of pre-ambles to prayer. For that, after all, is the purpose of my talking — to help you to pray, not just in these few minutes, but at any time: to help you to see and, I hope, understand a little better your own life and relationship with God. Many a day is such a 'busy', hectic place, as we're all so ~~busy~~ <sup>hurried</sup>: even our prayer, I imagine, is so often a 'quick one'. Yet, to be with God needs time — time to contemplate. And so, to this thoughtful piece about contemplation, which I hope may encourage you in your prayer, or at the very least, question for you the excuse we all make about not having enough time to pray. From a Scottish priest, John Dalrymple

QR TABLET 30/8/75 ..... Lullaby Beauty, moon.
p 822

MUSIC (under) "Take Thy Heart"

A contemplative, reflective piece of music which shows that contemplation doesn't always necessarily mean quiet: The Chetwode Choral Society, sings Take Thy Heart & fill it with gladness.

PRAYERS p 54 Time

(And to conclude now for Dalrymple's piece: QR (to end))

Beyond a Empty
Dream