

Greg. Chant Easter

Allolux

by Jacobus
Sallus

Easter time, with its focus on new life, on Christian initiation and Christian life, is maybe a good time to reflect on what it is to be a Christian.

Everyone who is a Christian probably has some answer or explanation of their own;

and in different ages and times there are, no doubt, various approaches to describe what a Christian is. Today, ~~for next week~~, I'd like to put to you a famous old statement about being a Christian — famous but perhaps not at all ~~too~~ ~~quite~~ ~~different~~ ~~statement~~, ~~from~~ ~~without~~ ~~again~~. ~~First~~, ~~today~~, ~~from~~ ~~long~~ ~~ago~~ well-known;

would you recognize yourself or your friends in this, from the letter of Diognetus?

Q. Brev. Ev. W. S. Ned. p 590 ff.

To take a pause now from the letter of Diognetus, here's a piece of music & prayer now, which I played a few weeks ago but you might like to hear again: Play Saw Him with the rose
