Te Deum (Opening)
ClapendierV.O. No, this is not Euvorion, but RTHK with Midday Prayer for the day after Trinity Sunday.

If you're from Europe or have lived there, you might recognise this music as the international identification theme from TV programmes put out on the Euvorion link-up. The music is actually the overture to a setting of the hymn in praise of God, Te Deum Laudamus, by the French composer Clapendier. A perhaps surprising choice, but certainly a more fitting one than I suppose most people wd. realise. I chose it today because the Te Deum is a hymn that goes well with yesterday's celebration of the Feast of the Holy Trinity; and I wanted to talk about that today. QQ. PP 408 p1 ff
