

Glenn (and St Francis) Last Monday, I read a little bit of St Augustine for you, in connection with what I was talking about. Today, on his own, St Augustine again — and later, since we missed out the feast of St Thomas More this year (he was canonized 40 yrs ago), a prayer of his written while he was in prison awaiting his death. But first, from the sermons of St Augustine, on good conscience — I imagine Thomas More must have heard and treasured this passage: and even if he didn't, it could almost have been penned by him close to his, and death, was a most striking and still relevant witness to conscience.

QQ. Bros III 13th Lk. Tues. p 251

For a prayer in music books, Agnus Dei by a 16th Century composer

Mark Flewitt

MUSIC: PRAYER

ERA(0)158
18 2:15

TABLET 26/6/76 p630.