

The light of X^t "Increase our faith" — that was an appeal that His disciples made to (First Sounds 2³) Christ. It was, if you remember, the first bit of the gospel reading from St. Luke that we had at the gospel-reading at last Sunday's liturgy. I've just come across a reflection on that appeal which is surely a basic Christian prayer, 'Lord increase our faith'. And I'd like to share with you today these thoughts on that gospel, written by an American Jesuit in a column in the weekly review "America": QQ. AMERICA 4/10/80 p 197

To take a break from these reflections on faith & belief, let's listen now to a setting of the Creed: from a Festival Mass
