PRAYERS ('Shade': Nazareth p 261)

Remember 'Jesus Christ Superstar' or any of those other 'rock' versions of the life of Christ, and His passion & death that broke on the music scene some 10 and more years ago? The movie version of 'Jesus Christ Superstar' had a quite intriguing attempt to portray the resurrection, the story that Jesus Christ is alive. not an easy thing to do on film, or even in song. For today, as something a bit unusual, I present in Friday Prayers the ending, about the Resurrection, of another Passion "musical": this one with songs and singing by Adrian Snell with the London Royal Philharmonic orchestra. "Jesus Alive" begins with the narrative from St John's gospel, in the Living Bible version, then the song of Mary Magdalene and of Mary the Mother of Jesus
