

There is a Witness (Lou Dinhe 1st) On Thursday last, I suggested that listening to the O.T. Books of the Maccabees and their stories of oppression and religious reaction would be a valuable preparation for yesterday's Feast of Christ the King. Let us then today, ourselves listen to the word of God in this account of one incident in the Syrian religious persecution, and pray ourselves for courage and perseverance for the church today, and all of our brother-sister placed in similar situations:

For some music now, here's another extract from Handel's oratorio "Judas Maccabaeus", the prayer "Falls of Heaven" sung on this historical recording by the English contralto Kathleen Ferrier.
